

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

Mazars Working with Action4Youth to Transform Local Space

Mazars, one of the largest firms in the UK and a leading auditor to Public Interest Entities based in Milton Keynes has partnered with Action4Youth as part of their ongoing commitment to the local community.

Mazars UK is supporting young people and children in Milton Keynes by volunteering at The Caldecotte Xperience to completely revamp and paint the inside of the George Amy building.

Mazars Company Partners, Sarah Cooke and Lucy Sampson are passionate about the project, saying "We wanted to make a difference in our local area by supporting a local charity. We believe that every child deserves a safe and enjoyable place to visit, explore, and experience new things. Our partnership with Action4Youth allows us to fulfil this vision and positively impact the lives of young people."

Volunteers from The Asset Management Team of Mazars have given up their time to paint the inside of the George Amy building, residential bedrooms, and canteen at The Caldecotte Xperience, with the aim to create a safe and inviting environment for young people to explore, learn, and grow.

The George Amy Building welcomes over 13,000 young people from primary schools across MK and North Bucks. They will be able to enjoy the new look making their visit even more welcoming and memorable.

Mazars is committed to giving back to the communities it serves. By teaming up with Action4Youth, they are demonstrating their dedication to improving the lives of children in the local area, setting an example for corporate social responsibility and community engagement.
